O.K. Millage Renewal; Burkley Re-elected

By Joe Schrader

Crawford County voters on Monday passed by a comfortable margin the school millage renewal proposal on 17.9 mills and reelected incumbent Kathleen Burkley to the school board in a voter turnout election officials termed "light"

In sharp contrast to last year's school election experience, voters OK'd the renewal by a better than 2 to 1 margin, 907 yes to 366 no votes. Burkley defeated Sherry Hanson for the 4-year school board post, 707-494.

In other ballot matters, incumbents Robert F. Bovee, George R. Frye and Charles L. Oppy were elected to the Kirtland Community College Board of Trustees. Ralph W. Harris and Robert J. Carpenter were re-elected to the COOR Intermediate School Board.

When contacted Tuesday morning, School Supt. Dr. William Diedrich expressed gratitude on behalf of the school board for the millage OK. "We thank the community for approving the millage proposal," he commented, "now we can move ahead with our school plans for next year."

But uncertain economic conditions around the state have cast a shroud over the financial state of affairs of the Crawford-AuSable District, along with all other school systems statewide. Diedrich said Tuesday that an executive order issued two weeks ago by Governor Milliken has already impacted the local system. "Our school aid has been cut by $30,694," Diedrich said. It was revenue the board anticipated when preparing the budget for next year. "We are not out of the woods by any means," Diedrich cautioned, "because of the executive order which cut our anticipated revenue, See Millage on Page 12

Shelter Survey Team Now Working in Crawford County

A team of architects, engineers and engineering students trained in analyzing buildings and other structures for their ability to protect people against various hazards is presently conducting a survey of all public buildings in Crawford County. The project is expected to take about a week to complete.

The mission and presence of the shelter survey team has been coordinated and approved by the Michigan Division of Emergency Services and the Crawford County Emergency Management Office. Crawford County is included in this survey at the request of local Director of Emergency Management Howard Taylor.

The survey team is comprised of a field supervisor, his assistant and several cooperative education and summer-hire students. The supervisor and the summer-hire students are employed by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), Region V, Battle Creek, Michigan. The cooperative education students are employed by the Army Corps of Engineers. The local team leader is Mr. Dennis Robinson.

The work of the shelter survey team fits into a continuing Federal Emergency Management Agency project to survey structures in the United States to find out how much fallout protection exists in these structures. As part of the work of each survey team, communities are surveyed to report buildings having potential as a congregate care facility and/or upgradable fallout shelter in Michigan.

Shelter survey information will be made available to the Michigan Division of Emergency Services and to the Local Office of Emergency Management. This information will then be incorporated into existing operations plans of both the State of Michigan and Crawford County.

By Joe Schrader

Beth Jones likes to run. And run she did this year for the Grayling High Girl's Track Team, who had one of its best years in recent memory.

With a perfect 6-0 dual and triangular meet record, the Viking girls made their mark on the northern Michigan track scene, a season topped off with a third place finish in the conference meet and a sterling performance by Beth Jones in the lower peninsula state finals. The slim, 14-year old GHS freshman in one season became one of the top distance runners in northern Michigan, if not finishes in the state finals at Cassopolis May 31st, Cheney called her performance "the highlight of our track season." "She has a very coachable attitude and is our team leader," she continued, "she has those natural strides it takes to be a good distance runner."

Enroute to her winning season, Beth, daughter of Jim and Claudia Jones, set two GHS records, running the mile in 5:25 and two-mile in 11:56. Both eclipsed GHS marks stretching back to the mid-seventies. And both occurred in the state finals. Her best 440 and 880 times still stand in the Middle School record books, even after this season when new records were established in almost every event.

Gen-Tel Offers New Dial Systems

General Telephone customers in Grayling are reminded that beginning Saturday (June 14) all long-distance calls can be dialed direct, according to Lois Reagan, the company's northern division manager.

To direct dial credit card, person-to-person, collect and bill-to-third-number calls, customers will: dial "0" plus area code if outside area 517 plus the number of the person being called. An operator will then come on the line to get billing information. (Customers will still dial 1 when direct dialing station-to-station calls.) The "0 plus" dialing service is a result of a new automated operator services system at General Telephone's longdistance switching center in Alma, Reagan said. The system enables operators to handle calls faster and more precisely by using push-button consoles instead of cord-type switch-

From Our Corner ...

We have been thinking every since last Friday how we were going to start out our corner this week after hearing what a local lady did at the 1980 seniors' class night on Thursday evening...we have lived here over thirty years and this is the first time we heard of this happening...

We speak of Garnetta Findlay...at class night she presented each senior with a card and a dollar bill in it...for those she missed that evening she returned to the school Friday morning to make sure everyone received her gift...

For us, we give the Tip of the Hat to Garnetta for her thoughful ness toward our graduating seniors...we are sure they all appreciated her kindness..

The gremlins were out again last week...this time in an advertisement...we wish to apologize to Ernie and Bob at Flowers by Josie for leaving their name off the list of sponsors in the full page congratulation ad for the 1980 senior class...it's bad enough when we make other errors, but when it comes to revenue...that hurts the ol' fella that much more...we'll remember their name next year...

Tonight is another one of those bummers...seems like we can't conjure up anything to help fill this turkey for this week...we must have let all of our wrath out of us last week, problem is we can't think of anything real nice except what Garnetta did.

An idle thought...we wonder when summer is going to arrive and stay more than just a couple days?

Now that school is out for this year we'd like to congratulate all those students who excelled in the class room as well as on the athletic field and in the music department...it has been quite awhile since Gravling has been this well represented in all these fields...

Another idle thought...the city is going gung ho with their project of Madsen and Lawndale streets...we are patiently waiting for the State Highway Department to begin their project of making the M-72 West railroad crossing passable for those who do not expect to lose their car or dentures while traveling west, or coming east...

We're going to put this turkey on the back burner now while we await the outcome of the school election...

Dr. Diedrich just called...schools will resume as usual next vear following the annual election Monday...the electorates okayed the millage asked, which was the same as last year, by a count of 907 yes to 366 no.

The millage vote was turned down only in the Lovells precinct where the voters turned it down 61 to 33. In the Frederic precinct the voter gave the yes nod 75 to 41, and in the Grayling precinct it was an overwhelming yes vote 799 to 264 negative.

We normally like to finish our corner on some what of a happy note to us anyway, when we relate about our family...tonight is a bit the other way, we received a phone call from Dane (our Nevada family) Sunday evening to let us know that Amber needs surgery on her ear and that shoots down their planned trip to Michigan this fall...

Have a nice weekend...hope all the dad's in our area have a nice day...we're going to...T.J., and Stef with mom are coming over and John is due in from Calumet where he will be working most of the summer...

Who Will Stop Your Murder?

Looking across the small group gathered for the Northern Michigan Right To Life Conference at the Holiday Inn in Grayling, the above question was raised. If this is a reflection of the concern in Northern Michigan for the murder of millions of babies across America, how many will gather in 25 years to protect my right to life in some nursing home?

The above reality was brought home to us as Dr. Marx reminded us that due to abortion, we have for the first time in America, less population under five years of age than over 65 years of age. With our growing economic problems it is not too hard to get the picture is it? It will be more than irony when the generation weakened by

"Mqkø sure your car insurance protects you in 'no-fault' states."

"If you're planning on a long trip by car, chances are, you'll be driving through states with 'no-fault' insurance

"If you're covered by an Auto-Owners policy, you can relax. Auto-Owners provides protection automatically under its bodily injury and property damage liability coverage in 'no-fault' states.

"This kind of farsighted protection is just one of the reasons we recommend Auto-Owners Insurance to the people we serve."

abortion must support the generation responsible for abortion? The logic will be terrific. If we cared not for the innocent. undeveloped people in their generation, why should they care for the guilty, wornout people in ours?

The above facts of reality should shock all of us out of our apathy and indifference. The Bible repeatedly says, "Thou Shalt Not Kill." There is no murder worse than abortion. The person has done nothing to deserve death. The person has the undeveloped potential of years of service to humanity. The person is refused every human freedom you and I take for granted. The Bible says "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Today, you and I are physically and mentally capable to help save the lives of millions of innocent babies. If we continue our present attitudes and actions, the day will creap upon us when we will be unable both mentally and physically to save the life of anyone. You may shrug your shoulders and forget this article, but if the day comes when a young nurse gently helps you into a wheelchair and wheels you down the long corridor to that mysterious room of no return, your memory of this moment will chill your spine. Performing Arts To Expand at Kirtland Music Director Bob Sienkiewicz and Theatre Director Kevin Wurz are pleased to announce an expanded performing arts program at Kirtland Community College for the summer. A variety of music courses in piano, guitar, and music appreciation will be offered as well as a course in theatre workshop. A childrens production of a play written by Wurz and music by Sienkiewicz is being planned and will be presented in various places in the Kirtland area. The theatre workshop course will be offered in the evening so that working members of the community, high school students, and college students home for vacation can participate. The members of the class will be encouraged to specialize in their favorite aspect of theatre and learn from the experience of working on a production.

Registration for classes will be held on June 11 and 12 from 9:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the Kirtland Admissions office, and class will begin on June 16. If you have any questions about the program or might be interested in working on the production for no credit call Kevin Wurz at Kirtland (275-5121) or at home (275-8890). If you might have an interest in booking the summer production for an event in your community or if you are interested in taking the course but cannot make registration call Wurz and arrangements can be made.

Both Wurz and Sienkiewicz are anxious to see more performing arts exist in the area and believe that Kirtland can help serve this need. They both hope to see the performing arts program at Kirtland continue to grow and prosper. With the help and support of the surrounding communities they feel that success will be certain.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank all the friends, relatives and neighbors for all the wonderful things you have done for us.

By Walt Nowak

The Chamber of Commerce will sadly miss its First Vice President Bill Kelly and offer our condolences to his wife Mary and the family. Bill was slated to be our President next year.

The Chamber has involved its efforts in obtaining grants for special programs in the area. One program is to determine the economic impact on the area of Camp Grayling. We have often said that the Camp generates millions of dollars to our economy, but nobody knew from whom. This program consists of two interviewers with a set of questions compiled with the assistance of Michigan State University. The questions are directed in three categories; the soldier, the business people of Grayling and area; and the tourists and families that camp in the area. This should give us a good cross section of responses. The information obtained from this program will be invaluable information for local statistics, but more important it will supply important data for the Michigan military when they approach the Pentagon for appropriations for the development and expansion of Camp Grayling for the future. The In-near future. If you are wondering about the status of the Weyerhaeuser Co. and their start-up date, the latest news we have is that on or about the 18th of June they will bring in heavy equipment to clear portions of the land to make room for the factory and the lumberyard. Operations and grubbing work, after that will be the construction phase. Weyerhaeuser will soon have an official news release with more details, so watch for that

Senior Citizen Homemaker Service

Now in it's first year your Homemaker Program has done services for 62 Crawford County Senior Citizens and is presently servicing 41. We have a total of 1706 units of service. As I have repeatedly stated, these services are for any Crawford County Citizen 60 years of age or older that is unable to perform light housekeeping chores and prepare their meals. The program also provides limited transportation services to the home-bound and physically handicapped.

There is no charge for these services, however if you are financially able to pay, we do accept donations.

Homemaker Services can be utilized in many important ways. Our Homemakers help clients recovering from surgery, thus a shorter hospitilization time. Recuperating from a long or extended illness, cope with a disability, or assist temporarily those chronic illnesses. The principle consideration is the client's needs and requirements necessary to allow him or her to continue functioning in the home.

If you need our services or know of anyone that does, please call me at the Senior Citizen Center, 348-9314, and I will be happy to try to help you. If I can't help you, I will try to find someone that can.

Cheney likes about Beth is her versatility. "She ran with our 440 relay team when we needed help there," Cheney said, "even though it probably affected her performances in the distance events. She just knew it was best for the whole team."

Her coach says Beth has all the qualities it takes, and that includes more than just physical ability. "She has the personality, strong will and competitive and team spirit it requires," said Cheney.

The frosh star, who says her favorite event is the two mile, began to run competitively in the 7th grade. Her love for the sport continued on into high school where she received all the added encouragement she needed from Cheney, who says Beth will continue to improve in the coming years. "She's already ahead of Peg Edward's freshman pace," Cheney remarked, "she's a Cheboygan sophomore who beat Beth in the conference meet this year."

Already the pair is laying out plans for a summer training routine. The conditioning program will include 5-10 mile road races, organized events like the Alpenfest and others around the state. Cheney said the routine will help Beth retain her competitive spirit and keep her cardio-vascular system strong and healthy.

During the Regionals held at Benzonia, Beth ran off with first place in the 880, mile and 2-mile races, setting regional records in the mile and half-mile in the process. That amongst competition from seventeen Class C schools. Her best half-mile time this year came in the Rudyard Invitational when she was clocked in 2:26.

Her record this year included eleven victories in the two-mile events, eight first place finishes in the mile, and six wins in halfmile competition. Many of her victories came in meets featuring a predominance of Class B runners from around the state. Of the 998 total points the GHS track team piled up this year, Beth alone scored 255 of them, following training that Coach Cheney said started as early as January and extended into the season.

The House That's Off The Market

James Walsh Sales Associate

Congratulations! Your house is sold. You've signed that contract with an eager prospect. What now?

Well, there's apt to be alot of waiting involved if it was a doit-yourself operation. That eager prospect is out checking on financing and you're not sure if he's going to obtain it. It wasn't easy to ask questions of all those strangers who came into your home: can the prospect really afford it?

Once the contract has been signed, of course you can't show it to anyone else. It's off the market. Now what happens if the buyer can't obtain the mortgage he needs? You've lost a buyerid vou've lost all that time for selling while you waited. No, your home isn't sold until closing. So it's to your profit to get a buyer fast, to obtain financing as soon as possible, and to close on schedule. Not an easy job, right? Let the professionals take over. List with Keith Dressel Realty, P.O. Box 251, I-75 Business Loop, Grayling, Mi 49738, 517-348-6111.

and arrived in Varanasi (formerly Benares) India, famous as a holy place for Hindus on the banks of the Ganges, to incredible 100°F temperatures. I stayed only one night but did manage an early morning boat ride on the river to see the centuries old ritual bathing and cremation ceremonies. My second day in India was the beginning of my unforgetable frustrations with the Indian railroads. A 12 hour train trip turned into close to 20 hours because hundreds of students who boarded on one of the last stops didn't want to go to classes and continued to pull the emergency cords which effectively stopped the train until the emergency system was finally severed by the engineers. I was told by fellow passengers that this was a "normal" situation.

I arrived in Agra exhausted and parched (now I know what parched means) but after some reviving decided to take a late afternoon trip to the Red Fort and the Taj Mahal. The struggle to get there was well worth it as I laid my eyes on what, I believe, truly deserved to be called one of the seven wonders of the world. This most beautiful and perfect building of inlaid marble leaves one shaking their head in awe over a civilization of artisans so talented to have created such a magnificent structure.

I left Agra and continued to Delhi, the capital of India, some 3 hours and more railroad frustrations, north. Here the heat was equally intense (and is getting worse) but at least there were some air-conditioned places where I could hide from the sun. I spent a couple of days and my present special space.

I leave for Kashmir tomorrow where I plan to spend a week before returning to Delhi and I began to feel slightly better points west. As I have heard that the Middle East will be experiencing similar temperatures to what I've already been through during this time of year, I have decided to change my itinerary again and head north to Europe and the final chapter of this adventure.

> As I hope to visit some relatives in Lithuania, I'm hoping to obtain my Soviet visa in Delhi, fly to Moscow and continue by train across Russia to Lithuania. I would then hope to travel across northern Europe calling first on Heintz and Ilse. my German friends from Hamberg who visited Grayling a couple of years ago. Unfortunately, the state of US/Soviet relations may cause some problems with the visa but I'll just have to wait and see.

Although Asia has been unique and filled with many strange and bizarre experiences it has, like Southeast Asia, been rather hard traveling. I am, therefore, looking forward to some easier travel and familiar territory. I have met many Europeans along the way and with friends from the past, should have a pretty busy European chapter.

Well I best now get to packing my pack and getting a good night's sleep as I must hike down the path to the bus, then to catch the (groan) overnight train and all day bus trip to Kashmir before I rest again. Have a nice spring-my best to

Parent Advisory Council

The newly formed Title I Parent Advisory Council held their third meeting on May 27th. Pete Ingvarsson, Facilitator for State & Federal Programs, explained what is required to evaluate the Title I program.

In addition, the council spent | Saturday a great deal of time developing their goals for next year. The council felt very strongly that there are many parents that want to help their children do better in school but they don't know where to begin. The council believes that if these parents knew more about what services were available when their children have problems with reading they would become more involved with the Parent Advisory Council. To this end, the council has

SPECIAL OLYMPICS WINNERS-For six Crawford County Special Olympians, last weeks trip to the 1980 Michigan Summer Special Olympics was a very successful one. The event which was held on the campus of Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant saw the local group return with a bushelful of medals and countless new friendships. Leading the medal attack for the group was double gold medal winner Lori Sue Siewert. She captured her medals in the swimming competitions. The rookie of the group, in her first olympics was Michelle Mitchell of Grayling Elementary School. Michelle responding by taking a gold and silver medal in the wheelchair competition. Donna Argue of Grayling captured gold and silver medals in the 50 meter dash and standing long jump. Pam Callan and Joe Kreitner both captured sixth place ribbons. These local athletes were part of a group of 28 olympians representing Crawford, Ogemaw, Oscoda and Roscommon counties at the games. The Area 4 squad was part of 3,000 olympians from across the state who took part in the three day event June 5th thru we know we must make some cuts in our budget and we are working on that package now." An operating budget for next year in excess of $3.6 million was approved by the board in May.

When it was approved, school officials anticipated reinstating some of the programs cut from this year's program: These included renewal of some community education programs the board deemed cost effective and reinstatment of a summer driver's education program.

But economic uncertainties have raised a question mark about some other programs that were being considered, Diedrich said. The planned purchase of two new school buses has been scratched and administrators will carefully review maintenance projects which were being scheduled for next year.

Uncertainty about the amount of state aid the system will receive next year makes long-range planning difficult, if not impossible. Diedrich said. "We don't know how much to expect for next year-there are so many bills floating around Lansing these days that we are literally living from day to day," he concluded.

But he said local school budget cuts are a foregone conclusion and administrators and the board are now faced with the ominous responsibility of determining their nature and severity.

PETER WHO? For what? Peter Fletcher. For trustee of Michigan State University. That's incredible. But it has happened. Michigan's Gov. Bill Milliken reached into his bag of surprises and pulled out a gem this time. When Democrat Mike Smydra resigned, under pressure, from MSU's elective governing board, the replacement under Michigan law is appointed by the governor.

Milliken heard pleas from 100 or more willing hopefuls to help guide MSU through rocky times, and then came up with someone who didn't even ask for the job,--Peter Fletcher from Ypsilanti, political crony, erstwhile chairman of the Michigan Highway Commission, Republican national committee member from Michigan, long-time Republican party wheelhorse going back to the George Romney days.

PETER FLETCHER also is a successful businessman, has a keen mind and winning way with people and institutions, enjoys an unblemished personal and professional record, and is, all in all, one fine person.

But Peter Fletcher? At MSU? That's incredible.

Gov. Milliken kept in mind all these positive attributes when he tapped Peter Fletcher for MSU, and cited most of them when he explained his choice. So what's wrong with the appointment? Only that Peter Fletcher bleeds blue, that's all. In all the world, there's no more devoted fan of the University of Michigan (not MSU, you notice) than Peter Fletcher. And he not only permits his U-M biases to show, he revels in them.

FRANKLY, AS a graduate of MSU, and as a member of various associations and councils and boards connected with MSU, I resent Peter Fletcher's appointment. I agree with Gov. Milliken that Fletcher has many fine qualities and serves extra-ordinarily well in many public capacities; Fletcher also is a personal friend from long days ago. But for MSU,? Not in my book.

THAT'S AS great a heresy as would be naming John Hannah or Duffy Daugherty to become University of Michigan Regents...and if you can't immediately identify Dr. Hannah and Duffy Daugherty and see the logic in the comparison, this whole column doesn't make sense to

In my view, the Governor has really come up with a clinker this time-imaginative, but a clinker still.

The odd part about the whole thing, however, is that Peter Fletcher likely will do one whale of a good job as a trustee at MSU. Strange world, isn't it? TURNING THE DIAL ONLY SLIGHTLY, I will jump to the defense of both Gov. Milliken and Mr. Fletcher who are under attack from another direction.

The Detroit News (among others) complains that Mr. Fletcher should have been disqualified from appointment to the MSU board because of his political experience and background. The News describes Fletcher as "hardheaded, articulate and has the financial acumen the board sorely needs." But the editorialists remain unhappy.

"The only problem is the relationship between the governor and Mr. Fletcher. the News editorializes. "They are, to put it bluntly, political cronies. Mr. Fletcher is a longtime Milliken adviser and supporter, and he is completing his fifth year as GOP national committeeman from Michigan. No matter how pure the governor's motives may have, the appointment can only be seen as blatantly partisan.'

ALLOWING (AS I DO) that Mr. Fletcher may well "do a fine job" the News

"His political baggage should have disqualified him. Continuing the partisan system, whether elective or appointive, effectively bars those candidates who may have all the credentials in the world except the right political connections."

Apparently, The News feels that political service should disqualify otherwise competent individuals from political appointment. I can't quite follow the logic. If an appointee is qualified, as the News says Fletcher is, politics shouldn't rule him out.

Milliken's appointment of Fletcher was not a political choice; after all, Fletcher had already received any political rewards his service might earn in his appointment to the highway job and his selection to the national committee.

I disagree with The News. I'm not quite sure what Fletcher's appointment really is...but politics it's not.

Article 6 Lillian Wolf-Director

This is my 6th and last article on Reye's Syndrome. I hope that the information I have offered the last few weeks has given many of you a better insight about what RS is all about. I personally believe that education of all of us is very important in all fields, especially when it comes to the health and welfare of our children.

In this article I would like to mention some of the things we can all do as concerned parents to combat Reye's Syndrome.

First, as mentioned before, know all you can about RS: write local representatives and members of congress. Let them know you are concerned and want funds available for research. The Cancer Society, Easter Seals, etc., and all other charitable health organizations had to start somewhere.

We are small but are doing the same things these groups are being done in regards to RS, making symptoms readily recognizable (such as cancer's warning signs that most people are now aware of), and trying to raise desperately needed funds for all these undertakings. Help the Reye's Foundation with time or funds if you are able. Most of all, be concerned about this threat to our children and future grandchildren. RS, sadly, is not going to disappear overnight. We all have to work today. It can and must be done! I must also remind parents at this time that RS is not just a winter disease as most people think. Actually, 36% of RS cases are during the summer months. So, please don't disregard your symptom sheet till fall. Thank You!

PERHIGHT 1980 KE STEP A WERLISING SERVICE CHARLOTTE LEE VIRGINIA 22906 "How big is the beachball, Gwenn?" Mary would ask.

"Two inches!" she'd answer. "How big is Daddy?"

"Eighteen inches!" said the thirty-six-inch giant.

"How big is that building?"

"A mile! No, two miles!"

So it went until Gwenn learned about the standards of length: the inch, foot and mile. Now, at eight, a beachball is "twenty inches;" Daddy has grown to "six feet;" and that building over there is "about two-hundred feet." Now, Gwenn has a better idea of the "bigness" of our physical world.

But what of spiritual dimensions? Gwenn must learn to gauge problems, worries, hopes and aspirations — lest her troubles seem too big, her dreams too small. She will turn to God's living Word, the Bible --- taught in her church.

A little girl learned. Will you? Scriptures selected by The American Bible Society

Health Department Increases Fees

The increase will take effect on July 1, 1980 in Crawford, Kalkaska, Missaukee and Wexford Counties which are the four counties included in the jurisdiction of District Health Department No. 1. The board determined that the increased fees would be necessary to cover budget short falls resulting from inflationary costs. Operational costs are rising at a rate faster than county and state ap-

The fees cover various types of food service establishments, well and septic tank construction permits, mortgage certifications, site evaluation services and subdivision reviews. Foster Parent

Assn. to Meet The Michigan Foster Parent Association will host an information and recruitment meeting for Crawford and Oscoda counties on Thursday, June 26, at the Holiday Inn, exit 254, I-75 North. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m., and is of great important to concerned citizens of these two counties. As a result of a recent statewide needs survey which incidated a critical shortage of foster families available to meet the current foster care needs of this community, recruitment project staff will be actively seeking families who are willing to share their homes and lives with children who are in need of temporary families.

If you have been looking for a new profession that allows you to serve your community and make a contribution to the future, foster care may be the way to do it. The public is encouraged to attend the meeting.
